Whether you come for its idyllic settings, to discover its rich cultural and gastronomic heritage, to immerse yourself in nature, or to enjoy the vibrant energy of its coastline, the Côte d'Azur is an experience that stimulates all the senses. Iconic gardens, legendary roads, snow-capped peaks, and sun-drenched shores... our destination offers remarkable diversity and a thousand ways to travel.

Thematic suggestions designed for individual travelers are crafted to spark curiosity and encourage the discovery of off-the-beaten-path stays. Divers and swimmers delight in the richness of protected seabeds. Hikers appreciate the beauty of trails in the high and mid-country, still true hidden gems. Ironman in Nice, the Alpes-Maritimes Nice–Cannes Marathon, or the Roc d'Azur in Fréjus... sports enthusiasts are spoiled for choice thanks to the Côte d'Azur's vibrant events calendar.

Traveling along the Côte d'Azur also means taking the time to savor life. With an incomparable art de vivre, gourmet palates are sure to be delighted—chefs and winemakers even go so far as to share their secrets.

For culture lovers, it is an invitation to walk in the footsteps of great artists (Picasso, Chagall, Matisse...) and film stars who, from Grace Kelly to more recently Lily Collins, have made the Côte d'Azur a legend.

Botany enthusiasts, meanwhile, will be captivated by some of the world's most beautiful gardens, including the exceptional Botanical Garden of Èze.

Those who prefer the call of the mountains will be amazed by alpine landscapes and ski slopes just a short distance from the coastline. Whether explored on foot, by bike, by car, or by motorcycle, our region abounds with opportunities.

The year 2026 also promises to be one of major anniversaries: the 100th anniversary of Fragonard Parfumeur, 90 years of Valberg, 70 years of the Biot® glassworks, 60th anniversary of the Musée Escoffier de l'Art Culinaire in Villeneuve-Loubet, birthplace of Auguste Escoffier (one of the greatest chefs in gastronomy), 30 years of the Musée des Merveilles in Tende, 20 years of the Les Plages Électroniques music festival in Cannes, and 10 years of Biot et les Templiers, one of Europe's largest medieval festivals.

1. #CotedAzurFrance...

CÔTE d'AZUR FRANCE is the destination's regional brand with 12,5 million tourists flocking here each year, generating some €12,5 billion in turnover.

Here, dream beaches and 5-star hotels, acclaimed festivals and the haunts of famous artists coexist with the secret coves and hidden villages nestled in the mountains.

Why? Well, very close to the iconic towns of Nice Côte d'Azur, Cannes and Antibes Juan-les-Pins, verdant valleys and high plateaus are beckoning ramblers, while hilltop villages with red roofs, illuminated each winter by the yellow mimosa flowers, invite you to sample the French 'joie de vivre' (joy of living).

The Escoffier Museum of Culinary Arts

♥ 2026 will be a landmark year for the Escoffier Museum of Culinary Arts, with the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the museum, opened on May 2, 1966, as well as the celebration on October 28 of the 180th anniversary of the birth of Auguste Escoffier.

The ambassador of modern French cuisine, Auguste Escoffier, is considered one of the greatest chefs in gastronomy. A pioneer in the culinary arts, he ruled the kitchens of the most renowned luxury hotels of the time and trained many chefs. After being the standard bearer for French gastronomy throughout the world, he died in Monaco in 1935 and his birthplace, located in Villeneuve-Loubet, became the Escoffier Museum of Culinary Art. Over 300m², each room contains treasures for lovers of gastronomy: old stoves, sugar and chocolate sculptures, distinctions received...

From the specialties of the Côte d'Azur, here are a few essentials: socca (chickpea pancake), petits farcis (stuffed vegetables), pissaladière (onion tart), courgette flowers, salade Niçoise...

Taste a chic picnic: Elevate your outdoor dining experience with a stylish and delicious Côte d'Azur-inspired picnic.

Côte d'Azur wines

Vin de Bellet is a wine with a controlled designation of origin (AOC) harvested in the only vineyard inside Nice city limits. It is the only urban vineyard with an AOC, totally located within a large conurbation.

Off the coast of Cannes, on Saint Honorat Island, the monks of the Abbaye de Lérins cultivate a small vineyard of 8.5 ha, using traditional methods. Through these wines, the friars wish to highlight their values: the love of a job well done, fraternity and the search for excellence.

Do not miss... rooftops

If having an aperitif is the custom on the Côte d'Azur, locals love to go up and nestle on the rooftops of hotels with their secret and trendy terraces with a panoramic view on the Mediterranean Sea.

Most of these rooftops are on the roofs of luxury hotels and are open on sunny days.

3. EXPERTISE...

Ceramicists, potters, glassmakers, perfumers, the people of the Côte d'Azur are creative!
Faithful to the traditions of the Côte d'Azur, artists and craftsmen exhibit their expertise and talent in many towns and villages in the Alpes-Maritimes.

Enter the doors of their workshops, discover their specialties and let these artists and craftsmen with the golden touch charm you.

Grasse, World Capital of Perfume

Flowers have given Grasse its letters of nobility. The city was once adorned, both visually and olfactorily, with gardens and fields of jasmine flowers, roses and tuberose, the three flowers which are queens in the art of perfumery. Even today, farmers grow them and gardens preserve this heritage bringing together all the scents of the Côte d'Azur. The major perfume houses take the raw materials that make up their fragrances from there, thus recognising Grasse's know-how and the quality of its flowers.

"Know-how related to perfume in the Pays de Grasse" has been registered since 2018 on the representative list of the intangible cultural heritage of humanity by UNESCO. This distinction relates to the cultivation of perfume plants, knowledge about both natural raw materials and their processing and the art of composing perfumes which have been developed by the craftsmen of the Pays de Grasse.

Discover the three historical perfumeries in Grasse: the Fragonard, Galimard and Molinard perfumeries, all of which offer guided tours and perfume creation workshops.

The Art of Glass in Biot

Since the second half of the 20th century, blown glass has become the symbol of this village on the Côte d'Azur. With its Ville et Métiers d'Art label, Biot has become the capital of contemporary glass in France. Several glassworks have set up there to showcase the subtleties of glass art.

A visit not to be missed: La Verrerie de Biot®, celebrating its 70th anniversary this year, the source of the Biot tradition of blown glass, the establishment's trademark, welcomes you for a journey through the world of glass creation.

You must also visit the Centre du Verre Contemporain - Famille Pierini, housed in a 15th-century building. Antoine Pierini, master glassmaker, designs breath-taking glass pieces.

... TO EXPLORE

Vallauris, Capital of Ceramics

How can we talk about Vallauris without mentioning ceramics and its most famous ambassador Picasso?

It was in 1948 that the master, charmed by the know-how of the city of potters such as Roger Capron, Jean Derval and... Suzanne Ramié, settled there to devote himself to ceramics.

The popularity of the painter attracted a crowd of curious people, personalities flocked there, artists settled there to learn ceramics in their turn, thus contributing to the revival of this activity.

Today, with the Ville et Métiers d'Art label, Vallauris is a setting where ceramicists, potters, artists and craftsmen express themselves, perpetuating their passion and their know-how.

The city now has workshops led by large families of potters from generation to generation, joined by a new wave of young ceramicists with innovative and ambitious projects.

In the footsteps of Picasso in #CotedAzurFrance: a cultural and tourist itinerary

Strength and beauty of landscapes, intensity of light, brilliance of colours, the Côte d'Azur has been a source of inspiration in the life and work of many artists.

Attracted by these lands of the South, Picasso found here a place to stay and create to his measure.

Antibes Juan-les-Pins (1946): Picasso moved to Château Grimaldi to paint. Now the Picasso museum, many of the artist's works dedicated to the Mediterranean are presented there.

At the invitation of the curator of the Grimaldi castle, Dor de la Souchère, Picasso used part of the castle as a studio. There he painted La Joie de Vivre and The Sea Urchin Eater...

Vallauris Golfe-Juan (1947-1955): It was in Vallauris, where the pottery tradition has an important place, that Picasso discovered ceramics. He produced more than 4,000 works at the Fournas workshop and chose the Romanesque chapel of Vallauris to paint the War and Peace fresco.

Cannes (1955): Picasso acquired "La Villa Californie" with an unobstructed view of the sea. An ideal place to stay and create, he set up his studio there and produced numerous works there, including the beginning of the series devoted to Las Meninas.

Mougins (1961-1973): Picasso died in Mougins in 1973 in his last residence, Notre-Dame-de-Vie, which was also his final studio.

8. MUSIC, CINEMA...

Every year, the world's spotlights shine on the Cannes Film Festival, its famous red carpet and its procession of stars, but let's not forget that the Côte d'Azur has had an intense love affair with cinema for more than a century!

Legendary film locations, events not to be missed, the #CotedAzurFrance and Cinema is a real love story.

Filmmakers of all nationalities love these wonderful landscapes, from the glamour of the Côte d'Azur to the nobility of simple Provençal farmhouses and bastides, with the Mediterranean Sea as a backdrop.

How can we forget Grace Kelly in Alfred Hitchcock's "To Catch a Thief" or Pierce Brosnan as a James Bond in "GoldenEye".

And recently, Demi Moore in "The Substance", Sarah Lancashire in "Julia", Matt Damon in "Le Mans 66", Robert Downey Jr. in "Iron Man 2"... and Lily Collins in the Season 2 of the series "Emily in Paris"!

“Carrés d’Or” on the Côte d’Azur! 3 shopping spots not to miss...

Cannes, Nice and Monaco have one thing in common: they all have their own open air “Carré d’Or” where all the chic boutiques are concentrated. In Cannes, it is concentrated in two long parallel streets: La Croisette and rue d’Antibes. In Monaco, the most famous brands in fashion, watchmaking and jewellery compete fiercely on Place du Casino. In Nice, rue Alphonse Karr and rue Paradis and avenue de Verdun are favoured by fashionistas.

Sea monsters

The Côte d’Azur is a favourite port of call for beautiful superyachts. Local trade shows dedicated to luxury sailing bear witness to this: the Antibes Yacht Show, the Monaco Yacht Show and the Yachting Festival in Cannes. And all year round yachts are to be found in Antibes, moored near the International Yacht Club d’Antibes or, as the locals nicknamed it, the “Quai des Milliardaires”.

Luxury takes to the air

Seven minutes. That’s how long it takes a helicopter to fly between the Principality of Monaco and Nice Côte d’Azur Airport. But helicopter companies also provide tailor-made services, offering its wealthy clientele a multitude of charter destinations.

Dream drives

Experience the extraordinary on the Côte d’Azur: Drive a classic car like a Jaguar E-Type, a vintage gem such as a 1960s Ford Mustang, a sleek sports car like a Porsche 914, or a luxury supercar such as a Ferrari California T to explore the legendary roads of the Côte d’Azur. Whether as a driver or passenger, enjoy the breathtaking panoramic routes that make this destination truly unforgettable.
